To maintain your AB, AA, AR or ARS designation, a graduate must complete eight (8) hours of continuing education each year after the initial certificate date. The eight hours may be earned by taking NCBI courses or by completing approved national, state, or local seminars, college classes or outside courses which relate to the home building industry. Initial certification is valid for one (1) year, ending on December 31 of the year following certification. (For example: certification earned in March 2019, would expire on December 31, 2020. Eight hours of continuing education must be completed before the recertification date of December 31, 2020). Graduates who allow their certification to lapse must take eight (8) hours per year up to a cap of 24 hours after a three (3) year lapse.
